Whether you are a general practitioner or a seasoned construction law specialist, you don't want to miss this half day program with topics that cover every stage of a construction project. Leading practitioners and a construction lien Master will guide you through topics that impact your practice. In addition to providing updates on the law, this program will also provide practical tips of the trade covering such topics as how to identify the "red flags of fraud" during the bidding process and the construction phase, the latest case law and CCDC contracts, everything you need to know about delay claims, and lastly, how to make those strategic litigation decisions from the perspective of someone inside the system--- a construction lien Master. This is one program you won't want to miss!
